

Site disclaimer

Latest Revision: July 2018

Your use of the Nashville General Hospital Foundation (NGHF) website is governed by these terms of use. By accessing and using NGHF website you agree to be bound by these terms of use. If you do not agree, do not access or use the NGHF website.

The NGHF website provides links to Internet sites maintained by third parties. NGHF does not operate or control the information, products, or services on these linked third-party sites. The materials on this NGHF website and the linked third-party sites are offered "as is". Information contained in the third-party sites may not reflect the opinions, recommendations, or practices of NGHF.

All content on the NGHF website is protected by copyright and trademark laws and is the property of NGHF, its affiliates or its licensors. Except for personal use, NGHF website content shall not be reprinted, copied, republished, modified, reproduced, displayed or distributed in any form without the express written permission of NGHF.

The NGHF website is intended to be a public resource of general information which is not promised or guaranteed, to be correct, complete, and up-to-date. NGHF does not intend for links to other websites or web pages, including but not limited to the NGHF or Nashville General Hospital Facebook page, Twitter feed and LinkedIn profile, to be referrals or endorsements of those websites, web pages or the persons or entities that operate such sites and pages. Your access and use of any linked websites or web pages is governed by the terms and conditions of use and privacy policies of those sites. The use of the Internet to transmit or store sensitive or confidential materials or personally identifiable information is discouraged. We encourage you to review the privacy policies and terms and conditions of use for any linked web page or website that you visit from the NGHF website. The NGHF Facebook page is governed by terms and conditions different from these terms of use.

The NGHF website is intended to provide information to assist you in accessing health care and is not a substitute for professional medical advice. Do not use information on this site to diagnose or treat a health condition or disease without consulting a qualified health care provider. If you are experiencing abnormal health symptoms of any kind, you are urged to contact your physician for professional medical advice as soon as possible. In the event of a medical emergency, dial 911.

If this website or Nashville General Hospital's website is used to obtain names of health care providers from which you seek medical treatment, NGHF makes no representation(s) as to the qualifications of such provider(s) to respond to, or care for, your particular health care needs. The content on this website should be considered medical advice only.

Your use of the NGHF website and any content thereon is at your sole risk. NGHF, its affiliates, licensors and its sponsors are neither responsible nor liable for any direct, indirect, incidental, consequential, special, exemplary, punitive, or other damages arising out of or relating in any way to your use or access of this site, site-related services, content or information contained herein, or any hyperlinked website. Your sole remedy for dissatisfaction with this site, site-related services, content, or information contained herein or on any hyperlinked website is to stop using the site, site-related services, content, information, or hyperlinked websites.

NGHF retains the right to send NGHF or Nashville General Hospital-related information to any website user that provides us an email address or that opts in to receive our emails either by completing the feedback form on our website or by providing us an email address through the “Email Sign Up” link on our website. You may opt out of receiving email communications from Nashville General Hospital or the NGH Foundation at anytime by following the instructions to opt out contained in an email you receive from NGHF or by sending an email. Data collected from Google's third party audience data (i.e. age, gender, interests) will be used with Google Analytics in order to guide user experience design designs on future iterations of the NGHF website.

Our policy for protecting your health information is governed by our Notice of Privacy Practices.
